Supplies for today: one list, no repeats

Mr. Moss

Story-world character

Each supply once, with the blocks that use it. Special items have an ordinary-supplies option; equipment has setup and supervision notes. Printables are in the next list. (Draft, not reviewed.)

Supply	Used in	Where it comes from, or the ordinary-supplies option	Setup and supervision
A picture book from your own shelf or library Plan says: Big Feelings, Brighter Days read-aloud spread (story set) or "The Lion and the Mouse"	Read-aloud	From your own shelf or library. Any title on the topic. If none is on hand, use the story set pages in this bundle.
The day's food for tasting or the meal Plan says: An orange food	Eat the Rainbow at the table	From the kitchen. Use the menu's food for the day (see the kitchen page). Served only as each child's director-approved serving instruction allows.
Made or kept earlier this week Plan says: Kindness chain	Closing and take-home	Made, collected or kept on an earlier day: see Prep ahead this week.
Music Plan says: Music (any player, a drum, or clapping)	Movement	If you do not have it: Clapping, a pot and a wooden spoon, or a drum. No player or internet needed.
Beanbags Plan says: Beanbag	Movement	If you do not have it: A rolled-up pair of socks or a soft toy.	Toss underhand at a target, never at people.
One visual timer Plan says: One block, a sand timer; Sand timers (2 to 3 minutes); Sand timers	Picture-talk story, Connected activity, Learning zones	If you do not have it: One visual timer for the whole room is enough: a kitchen timer, a clock the class can see, or counting slowly together. You do not need one per child or per zone. Day plans name a sand timer in several blocks; it is the same one timer.
Shakers, drums and rhythm sticks Plan says: Shakers	Connected activity	If you do not have it: Pots and wooden spoons, or empty bottles with large dry fillers (teacher seals the lid).	The teacher seals every homemade shaker with strong tape or glue. Fillers must be bigger than a choke-test tube; check seals before each use.

Observation focus this week (2 to 3 short, factual notes on about 4 children today)

- Feelings words: which feelings can each child name or show?
- Calming: does the child use a strategy with help, or on their own?
- Peer play: does the child play alongside, with, or take turns with a friend?

Daily routines used in this plan

Principal Hazel
Story-world character

Greeting song: Sing it to "Frère Jacques" and drop each child's name in as they arrive at the carpet.

Greeting choice board: From Day 6 on, each child picks wave, high five, fist bump, elbow bump or hug, and you greet them that way. Touch is never required, and a smile counts.

Feelings check-in: Hold up the Feeling Faces cards. Twos point to a face. Threes and pre-K say it or point, and from Day 7 they slide their name card under a face on the feelings chart. Whatever they pick is right: "Thank you for telling me."

Calendar and weather: One child slides the arrow to today. Twos point to the sun or the cloud picture.

Bunny breaths: Three quick sniffs through the nose, like a bunny, then one long breath out through the mouth. Do three rounds together.

Lumi's Calm Corner: A choice, never a consequence. Ask: "Would you like to visit Lumi's corner, or would you like me to stay with you here?" Children stay as long as they need, usually 2 to 5 minutes.

Asking questions: Ask, then count to five in your head before you say anything else. With twos, ask one question and take a point, a gesture or a single word.

Learning zones: Children choose where to go. You move between zones, talk with kids, and jot 2 to 3 short notes each: what the child did or said (facts only), where, and a next step. No scores.

Transitions: Every transition gets a Bop song: the Come-to-the-Carpet Song, the Cleanup Song, the Handwashing Song (twice through, about 20 seconds) and the Line-Up Song.

Take-home card: Hand each family the day's card at pickup and say one specific thing about their child (for example, "Maya counted 8 leaves today with Zuri").

Morning circle

about 15 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: By the end of circle, every child has said "Can I have a turn?" out loud at least once, even if it was to a puppet.

Threes: Do the usual greeting, feelings chart and bunny breaths. Then stage a grab: Bop yanks the toy right out of Booker's paws. Let the room react before anyone fixes it, then teach the two sentences together.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Pairs act the scene out with a real toy, then trade roles. Whoever played the grabber says what they should have said.

Day 9: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Unit 1 • Week 2: Meet Lumi: Big Feelings • Thursday • Teacher packet

DRAFT • not reviewed

Twos: Keep circle to 10 minutes. One puppet, one toy, and "My turn, your turn" over and over until it feels like a game. Twos can just hold their hand out.

Say or ask

- "Lumi has been busy being kind all week. Who can tell me what kindness looks like?"
- "Sharing is kindness. Gentle hands and kind words are kindness too. Today we practice kindness with something everybody wants: the toy."
- Bop grabs, Booker gasps. Hold the pose. "How does Booker feel? What could Bop say instead?"
- Teach it in two parts, and let the children be Booker. You say: "Can I have a turn?" They answer: "You can have it when I'm done." Swap until they beat you to the answer.

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: Tape "My turn, please" and "Your turn" picture signs by each zone. Children can point to the sign instead of saying the words. Key words today (English / Spanish): turn / turno, share / compartir, wait / esperar. Show a picture or gesture with each word, say it in English and in the home language, and invite a child or family to teach the class the word in their language. Spanish words are a draft until a native-speaking educator reviews them.

Movement alternative: Sit on a chair, a cushion or a lap, or stand at the edge of the circle. Any move in the circle can be done seated with just arms and hands, and a point or a wave counts as joining in.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "Who asked for a turn today, and who got one?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Two puppets; A toy for the role play (gathered once in the supply list)

Picture-talk story

about 10 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: Children watch a sand timer settle an argument that words alone couldn't.

Threes: Tell the story with the Zuri, Bop and Lumi puppets, one block and a sand timer. Let the sand run for real while Zuri holds the block, and watch Bop's puppet fidget. Then ask the questions.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Ask: "What else could Zuri and Bop have done instead of grabbing?" Collect two ideas, and test one with the puppets.

Twos: Tell only the first beat and the last beat with one or two puppets, then ask one question and let them answer in play: "My turn, your turn! Let's practice."

Say or ask

- Tell the story with the puppets (no screen needed): Zuri and Bop both reach for the same block at the same second. Lumi shows up with a sand timer. Zuri holds the block while the sand runs, then Bop gets his turn. In the end they stack it together and build something taller than either could have built alone.
- "What was the problem?"
- "What did Lumi bring to help?"
- "What can you say when you want a turn?"
- Story-world friends (teacher voice, no puppet needed): In the story, Nico is the first to offer a turn with the special block.

Day 9: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Unit 1 • Week 2: Meet Lumi: Big Feelings • Thursday • Teacher packet

DRAFT • not reviewed

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: A child can answer by handing the block to the puppet whose turn it is.

Movement alternative: Listen sitting, lying on a tummy or standing at the back. Acting out the story can be done with hands, or by walking a puppet across the floor.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "What did Lumi use to help Zuri and Bop take turns?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Zuri, Bop and Lumi puppets; One block, a sand timer; Picture-talk card (Day 9 packet) (gathered once in the supply list)

Connected activity: Kindness Chain

about 15 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: Each child names one kind thing they can do, and everyone practices waiting for a turn while sand runs.

Threes: Go around: each child says one kind thing they can do (help, share, hug, give a turn) and you write it on an orange paper link. Loop the links into the class kindness chain, and add a link every time you catch a kind act today. Then pairs practice with the sand timer and one special toy: one holds it until the sand is gone, then hands it over.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Every hour, children count the links and say how many were added since last time.

Twos: Pass a shaker back and forth with a teacher and sing "My turn, (pat pat), your turn, (pat pat)" while it travels. Then pet the Lumi puppet softly, like it might wake up.

Say or ask

- "What's one kind thing you can do?" Write down the answer exactly as they say it, spelling and all.
- Sing it each time the shaker changes hands: "My turn, (pat pat), your turn, (pat pat). Bop waits, (pat pat), now it's YOURS!"

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: A visual timer helps most children wait, because they can see the wait getting smaller. If a child can't let go of the toy, give a one-minute warning and a "next" card that promises the toy comes back. Praise every small step toward handing it over. Inclusion support. Self-regulation: use a visual sand timer and a "first, then" picture card ("first Nico, then you").

Movement alternative: Bring the materials to the child at table height, and every step can be done seated. A partner can fetch and carry.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "What kind thing did you add to the chain today?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Orange paper strips, tape or glue; Sand timers (2 to 3 minutes); Shakers (gathered once in the supply list)

Day 9: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Unit 1 • Week 2: Meet Lumi: Big Feelings • Thursday • Teacher packet

DRAFT • not reviewed

Movement: Pass the Kindness

about 5 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG + MOVE

Goal: Children pass a beanbag around the circle, and whoever is holding it when the music stops says something kind.

Threes: Stand in a circle and pass the beanbag like it's a kindness, hand to hand. When the music stops, the child holding it says something kind to the neighbor, or gives a wave.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: On a signal, the beanbag switches direction. The child holding it names the kind thing in a full sentence.

Twos: An adult helps pass the beanbag. When the music stops, the child holding it waves, and that's the whole job.

Say or ask

- "Music's stopped! Say something kind, or give a wave." If the room goes quiet, say one yourself. Someone will copy you.

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: A wave always counts as an answer. A child who uses a wheelchair or prefers to sit can do every move with arms, head and upper body. "Stomp" turns into "pat knees."

Movement alternative: Everything works from a seat: stomp becomes pat knees, jump becomes arms up high. A child can also keep the beat on a drum while the others pass.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "Who said something kind to you in the beanbag game?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Beanbag; Music (any player, a drum, or clapping) (gathered once in the supply list)

Learning zones

about 60 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: Children share materials and practice kindness at every zone, and some of them make a kindness card for a classmate.

Open all zones and jot 2 to 3 observation notes each.

Zone	Twos	Threes and Pre-K
Booker's Reading Area	books about friends	make a kindness card for a classmate
Lumi's Calm Corner	the Lumi puppet, for gentle petting	Feeling Faces with a friend
Zuri's Discovery Zone	big blocks with a teacher saying "my turn, your turn."	partners build with the sand timer running on the special block
Bop's Movement Zone	push a friend in the toy wagon, with a teacher	parachute or sheet game, where nothing works unless everyone holds on
Art table	everyone paints on one big paper	write or dictate kind acts onto links for the kindness chain

Say or ask

- "Two of you want the same thing. How can you share this?"

Day 9: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Unit 1 • Week 2: Meet Lumi: Big Feelings • Thursday • Teacher packet

DRAFT • not reviewed

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: Lumi's Calm Corner is a choice, never a consequence: "Would you like to visit Lumi's corner, or would you like me to stay with you here?"

Movement alternative: The parachute game works seated, with children holding the edge from a chair or the floor. An adult or a friend pulls the wagon (or laundry basket), and no one rides.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "Who did you share with at school today?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Blank cards for kindness notes; Sand timers; Parachute or large sheet; Toy wagon (gathered once in the supply list)

Read-aloud

about 10 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: Children point to the part of the story where somebody is kind.

Threes: This is the third reading of Big Feelings, Brighter Days (or a reread of "The Lion and the Mouse"). Stop before the last page and ask which part shows kindness.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Compare the two stories: "How were the mouse and Lumi the same?"

Twos: Turn to the kind page and let them point to it.

Say or ask

- "Which part shows kindness? Show me, or tell me."

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: A child can answer by pointing to a page.

Movement alternative: Listen from a chair, a cushion or a lap. The story gestures work seated, with hands only.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "Which part of the story was the kindest part?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Big Feelings, Brighter Days read-aloud spread (story set) or "The Lion and the Mouse" (gathered once in the supply list)

Eat the Rainbow at the table

runs during the meal • Zuri • NOURISH

Goal: Children pass the bowl to a neighbor and help a friend hold it steady at a family-style lunch.

Threes: Practice family-style: pass the bowl to the left and say "Here you go." A child can help a friend by holding the bowl steady. Children who explore today's orange food get an orange sticker.

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Children watch for a friend who needs a hand at the table and offer it in words before reaching.

Twos: An adult steadies the bowl with them while they pass it.

Say or ask

- "Here you go." And the person who receives it says "Thank you," if they feel like it.

Day 9: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Unit 1 • Week 2: Meet Lumi: Big Feelings • Thursday • Teacher packet

DRAFT • not reviewed

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: Check the posted allergy and meal plan before serving; a child whose plan excludes today's food explores the color with a picture card instead. Never pressure a child to eat; for children with feeding or sensory food differences, touching, smelling or licking counts as trying.

Movement alternative: Children stay seated at the table. Passing is optional, and an adult or a friend can pass for a child who would rather not.

Meal reference: Serve only as each child's director-approved serving instruction allows (served-instead or never-serve, in the kitchen view). If a child's instruction is missing or out of date, ask the director before serving that child. A child served something else joins with a picture card.

Family connection: At pickup, families can ask: "Did you pass the bowl at lunch? What did you say?" Today's family card: "Kind Hands, Kind Words". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Family-style serving bowls; An orange food; Orange stickers (gathered once in the supply list)

For the cook and the table (optional, neutral): Practice family-style passing with the orange food of the day: pass the bowl, hold it for a friend, say "Here you go." Exploring counts; no one has to eat it.

Closing and take-home

about 10 min (estimate) • Lumi • BELONG

Goal: Count the links on the kindness chain together, out loud, and hear what each one was.

Threes: Count the links together. Then name 3 kind acts you actually saw today, with names: "Nico held the door."

Pre-K: As for threes. Pre-K stretch: Show the chain in groups of 5 and count on: "5, 10, and 1, 2, 3 more."

Twos: Clap once for every link. Clapping is the counting.

Say or ask

- "We were kind ___ times today!" Let the children fill in the blank.
- Lumi says: "Kind hands and kind words help everybody feel they belong here."

Everyone can join (the same four lines on every block)

Participation choices: A child can count by pointing at each link.

Movement alternative: Answer from wherever you're sitting. Pointing at a sign or a picture counts, and the song moves can be done seated.

Meal reference: No food in this block.

Family connection: This is today's family activity, "Kind Hands, Kind Words". It comes with a three-minute version on the free family page "This week with Lumi". (activity u1-w2-d4-goodbye)

Materials: Kindness chain; Take-home card for each family (gathered once in the supply list)

Take-home card: Kind Hands, Kind Words

Ask: "How did Lumi help her friends share?"

Do: Play any game with turns tonight (rolling a ball, a simple board game) and say "My turn, your turn" before each go.

Use the language you speak at home. Tell the teacher one word your child said in any language.

From home: A ball or a simple board game

Picture-talk story: “Lumi Shares the Blocks”

Day 9. The episode is not produced. Tell the same story with the stick puppets (or plush) and real objects, about 5 minutes. Hold up the right friend for each beat, act it out, and pause so children can guess what happens next.

Zuri and Bop both want the same block.

Lumi sets down a sand timer.

The sand runs for Zuri, then for Bop.

Then they stack their blocks together, and it comes out bigger than either would have built alone.

Then ask

- "What was the problem?"
- "What did Lumi bring to help?"
- "What can you say when you want a turn?"
- Story-world friends (teacher voice, no puppet needed): In the story, Nico is the first to offer a turn with the special block.
