The mission

For ages 2-5: characters, bilingual curriculum, stories, movement, nutrition and family participation. One Independence pilot is the first proof; partner expansion follows evidence.

The connected product

Booker learns. Lumi belongs. Zuri explores. Bop moves. A planned director, teacher, parent and adult-mediated child platform connects work records, approved messages, daily care, CRM, ATS and commerce. No unrestricted child AI.

Where recurring income can grow

Center and church subscriptions; family learning; curriculum and training; implementation and support; merchandise, learning-zone kits, tablet rentals and licensing. These are future opportunities, not signed revenue.

What is visible today

The public brand, stories, activities, bilingual direction, product concepts and professional curriculum/menu reviews. Hosted role flows, billing, security, backups and operating receipts still need acceptance.

Cost and capital reality

Low / base / high: $2,616,874.61 / $3,139,152.61 / $3,963,953.40. Base gap to the loan: $1,639,152.61 before receipts and financing. 133 source-referenced lines; 554 allowances. Market references are not written bids.

The lender's return: illustrative

At 12%: $15,000/month for 12 interest-only months; then $33,366.67/month for 60 months. Total paid: $2,182,000.29; interest: $682,000.29. No equity or permanent ownership. Terms and return are unagreed.

Repayment is not yet established

Base year-one net receipts: $370,784.80; operating cash before debt: -$874,057.38. All four 72-month stress cases fail coverage. Stage draws, verify demand and revise scope or capital before committing.

Animation: the revised allowance

12 × 7-minute episodes. $122,640 episode labor; $13,865 base generation credits for 102 finished minutes with a 4× retry assumption, not measured yield. $539,647 content facet includes separate services. QR/promo labor and finishing need row-level reconciliation.

Next decision: authorize evidence, then release capital.

Verify borrower/IP, license/capacity, lease, payroll, collections, quotes, rights, privacy, security, device tests and signed demand. Approve one episode, two QR clips and a bilingual promo before the season.
